

Dr Lau Yuk King, The Chinese University of Hong Kong

Dr LAU is a Professional Consultant in the Department of Social Work, The Chinese University of Hong Kong. She is an experienced trainer and clinical supervisor in family social work practice. Her teaching areas are specialised in family-centered social work, family intervention and family theories. She has a special concern on the challenges encountered by families in the changing society and the development of indigenous family-centered practice to facilitate the resilience of families in Hong Kong. Her research areas include practice research on family-centered practice on working with students who refused to attend school and post-divorce families, work-family interface, cross-border living families, family impact analysis.