

Ms Cynthia D'Anjou Brown, Co-Chair, The Chen Yet-Sen Family Foundation

Cynthia has been a volunteer with the Chen Yet-Sen Family Foundation since 2003 and is currently its Co-Chair. Having the privilege of working with James Chen (Co-Chair), the founding patriarch and family members, has given her an outsider's view of thoughtful family philanthropy over generations. As a social worker in Canada, a Vice-President at the United Way of Greater Toronto, and Executive Director of a municipal social planning body, Cynthia has had over 30 years experience in social policy and non-profit service development. She currently works for a major private bank helping families with their philanthropic pursuits and family governance.
