

Dr Thomas Chung, Consultant Community Medicine, Student Health Service, Department of Health

Dr Thomas Chung graduated from the Faculty of Medicine of the Chinese University of Hong Kong. He joined the then Medical and Health Department as a Medical Officer after graduation. He has been working in various services in the Department of Health and received training in Public Health. Dr Chung got a Master degree in Health Administration and Fellowship of the Hong Kong Academy of Medicine in Community Medicine. He is a registered specialist in Community Medicine under the Medical Council of Hong Kong.

Dr Chung is currently working in the Student Health Service of the Department of Health as Consultant Community Medicine.