Re : Youth Creativity Development Seminar and Visits

Date : 10th September 2010

The Council has great concern on the children and youth development, their participation opportunities and creativity development. Nowadays youths in Hong Kong face various social and individual challenges, including education reform, employment opportunity and mental health problem. We believe that creativity can help develop youth's self-confidence, enhance critical and creative thinking, and their problem solving and communication skills in facing these challenges.

To enhance better understanding of creativity among youths and co-operation among different professions in facilitating youth creativity development, the Council is organizing a Seminar on 23 October 2010, from 2:00pm to 5:30pm. Speakers from Six Creativity Industries, Academia, Cultural and NGOs Sectors would be invited to discuss and share how to use creative methods to express youth's concern. Visits to the HKICC Lee Shau Kee School of Creativity, SKYHIGH Creative Partners and Infinito Education Studio of Hong Kong will be organized on October 30, November 5 and 13, 2010.

Enclosed please find the rundown and application form.
